Anti Plastic Month - Aviskrita

We know that plastic is harmful to Earth and all organisms, but life without plastic is not very easy. So along with reducing plastic we have to reuse and recycle the existing plastic with us. NSS units (15 & 116) of Providence Women's College conducted a plastic free month campaign - 'Aviskrita' in connection with Plastic free month - July. It was a 31 days challenge. Each day a task was given to the volunteers. The task was focused on rising volunteer's awareness on sustainable development, the process of effective reuse, our misusing of resources, understanding the urgency in protecting the environment, so on. Making paper carry bags in order to reduce plastic, making creative things out of plastic, writing a literary text where plastic is a character, speech on environmental issues, discussion on environment problem in every volunteers surrounding and what is stopping them from reacting against, not using electrical devices including fan light mobile phone etc for half an hour, writing an open letter to earth by accepting the mistakes done by each individual to earth and apologizing by mentioning how they will retreat earth. These are some of the tasks. We also made a video on menstrual tools and its environment impact, along with we decided to promote eco friendly tools. All the NSS volunteers actively participated throughout the tasks.
