Be a full person.	Do it together.	Teach her that 'gender roles' is absolute nonsense.
Beware the danger of what I call Feminism Lite.	Teach Chizalum to read.	Teach her to question language.
Never speak of marriage as an achievement.	Teach her to reject likeability.	Give Chizalum a sense of identity.
Be deliberate about how you engage with her and her appearance.	Teach her to question our culture's selective use of biology as 'reasons' for social norms.	Talk to her about sex and start early.
Romance will happen so be on board.	In teaching her about oppression, be careful not to turn the oppressed into saints.	Teach her about difference.
